Has the Church lost its power?

What does the church become when deprived of the regular revelation of Christ's glory? In the first place; it becomes spiritually malnourished, for it was called into existence to glorify Christ and to commune with the Godhead by feeding upon Christ.

It is by the church's intake of Christ that it is able to manifest Christ. Without this feasting upon the things of Christ, she will experience spiritual declension.

A decline into cold formalism and institutionalism is not foreign to any of us. For we have witnessed this same tendency toward luke-warmness in our own persons. We are all too familiar with the kind of spiritual chill that can come over the soul and numb its operations.

It is Christ who has purchased His church. He owns the church and rules the church by His infallible Word. When believers forget that Christ owns and rules His church, then there is an inescapable pull in the direction of man-centeredness. Form tends to slowly replace function.

The church cannot manifest Christ through true community unless it is living out its union with Christ. Without radical identification with Christ; it sentences itself to nominal Christianity.

Christ is the source of supernatural power for love, for sacrifice, for service, and for unity. The church cannot fulfill its biblical function apart from utter dependence upon Christ (Jn 15:1-12).

The church is a community of believers called out of the world by Christ. He intends that it functions as His 'visible' Body on earth.

Has the Church lost its power

'Body life' is the church functioning as a revolutionary community characterized by supernatural love, sacrifice, giftedness, and unity (1 Cor 12; Eph 4). And, it is to live out this Christ-empowered supernatural community under the eye of the watching world (Jn 17:20-21).

We must never forget that the Authority of the Word of God is in tension with man's "power." The greater the submission is to God's Word (through which Christ is ruling); the more room there is for God's power to work. Jesus built His Church by only using the Word of God, Biblical principles, and people committed to His Lordship.

The church cannot maintain its fervency apart from communion with Christ. When He comes and shows Himself amidst our meditation and communion with Him; He brings with Him peace, comfort, joy, and assurance. Christ's intent is that we 'feast' with Him by means of these spiritual refreshments (Rev 3:20).

Then we went to the outskirts of the city in one of the most beautiful buildings in the country, the villa "Davon House". They had the opportunity to do a sightseeing tour through the house, which famous because it was built by George Stiebel, the first black millionaire in Jamaica. And there was also an ice-cream for everybody.

The Courageous Journey of Faith calls us to "Let Go and Let God"

Judy Winspeare-Philip (Mrs.)
Finalizing service at UTCWI Chapel –
Wed 27 March 2019

Let us pray

After accepting the call to follow Jesus, I was stripped of myself, I had to go through a period of pounding, pressing, grinding and reshaping in order to understand the call.

Letting go is never easy; it calls for us to leave our country, our livelihood, our comfort and the worst of it is separating ourselves from families and loved ones. Letting go is scary, it means letting go of our control and no one wants to be out of control.

Some theologians would say that the text from the book of Genesis 12:1-10 is the beginning of salvation history, it foreshadows the later patriarchs, the nation of Israel, and the entire Davidic line, including the messiah.

Other theologians might argue that It is also the nest for the biblical concept of the blessing; God was at work in the lives of His people to counter the effects of the curse. Despite God's swift judgement of sin, most people ignored him and continued to sin. But GOD revealed himself to Abram, who would later be renamed Abraham and God chose to use Abraham's family to be the instrument of his salvation plan for humanity. Abraham was not chosen because he was a perfect man; in fact, his life demonstrated some great flaws. But he also demonstrated great faith in God and in God's promises and obedience in letting go.

Our main focus will be about Abraham receiving God's call and letting go. I will be paying particular attention on verses 1-3 of Genesis 12. Reading the passage, one could say that Abraham did not totally obey the full instructions given because not only did he take his wife, but he took his nephew and a few others with him. God gave Abraham several instructions, leave thy country, separate yourself from your family and move to a place of uncertainty (I can imagine if Abraham was a Caribbean man in his old age) Like Abraham I answered the call, but I left my family behind. (my warden would say she did not take her family, but her husband could not leave her alone)

I Packed my four suitcases to a destination unknown (yes, I was coming to the island of Jamaica but to where exactly was I going I knew not); accompanying me were two large suitcases, one medium and a small. One large suitcase held the garments of courage; the other the garments of faith; the medium suitcase held the garments of obedience and the small suitcase garment of fear.

Letting go and letting God required us to clothe ourselves in the garments of courage; courage to step out into the unknown, courage to say Lord I'm available; courage to say lead me Lord I will follow. It is evident that Abraham was not ready to face the courageous journey alone he needed company hence he walked with his wife and company. I have learnt over these few months that it takes courage in moving forward even when you feel alone. It means standing alone when no one dears to stand with you. You see when God calls us out and sets us apart for his purpose wearing our garments of courage will begin to feel comfortable. (Women buying wrong shoe size; they wear size eight but purchase a seven and half because it was the last pair and the sales clerk told them that it would stretch. They ware it until it eventually become comfortable)

God grants us courage for every call.

As student pastors preparing for ministry, at times one can become lost in mind, body and soul and just need to hear the words take courage; be courageous, God will take care of you and it can make a difference. Maybe you are facing an overwhelming situation or perhaps being recently diagnosed with an illness and need to hear these words take courage hold on to God's unchanging hand.

The first step to courage is to remember who we are in Jesus Christ; to remember that in Christ we are strong, victorious, accepted, justified, redeemed, saved, and completely forgiven. Our sins are washed away. We were born for courage, not for fear. God placed within us a level of courage because he wants us to try new things. He wants us to be obedient. He wants us to trust in Him knowing that he will never leave us helpless. We can take courage because we are not facing our challenges alone. God, our heavenly Father, the all-powerful, is right here with us.

Letting Go and letting God calls us to clothe ourselves in the garments of Faith;

Interestingly the Brooklyn Tabernacle Choir renders a verse this way

"It's hard to take the first step
When I don't know the way
Each turn is so uncertain
I learn to walk by faith
But you gave me a promise
That you will never leave
You will lead and guide me
Lord I do believe

When God called Abram, he moved out in faith. He moved from Ur to Haran and finally to Canaan. God then established a covenant with Abram, telling him he would be founder of a great nation. Not only will this nation be blessed, God said, but the other nations of the earth would be blessed through Abram's descendants. Through Abram's family tree, Jesus Christ, was born to save humanity. Through Christ, people can have a personal relationship with God and be blessed beyond measure.

Having Faith in God is a winning attitude. It is being determined to have a positive attitude in what appears to be a dim situation. Faith is the one thing that is necessary for life in this world where everyone seems to be doing their own thing.

The apostle Paul in 2 Timothy 1:12 declared; "For I know whom I have believed and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day."

Faith in God can change any situation. Elijah when contesting with the false prophets on Mount Carmel, soaked the sacrifice and the altar with much water, and when God answered his prayer, the people cried out, "The LORD He is God!" (1 King 18:38-39)

Faith in God can change any situation and give new hope in times of trouble.

Faith in God calls us to be transformed. Romans 12:1-2 declares "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. 2. And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

Faith in God requires a level of trust. Each one of us came here today and we sat without doubting that the chair is safe to hold us. That is faith. It is walking by faith and not by sight. It is letting go and letting God have his way, even when we are unable to see at the end of the tunnel.

Letting Go and letting God calls us to clothe ourselves in the garment of Obedience

The story was shared with me about a man who was taking a journey through a dark forest in order to get to his destination. He was given a bag and was told to collect as many rocks as he could. He thought it was foolish instructions, so he refused to collect the rocks from the start. Only as he was drawing closer to the end of his journey that he decided to collect the rocks. When he arrived at the end of his journey, he glanced into the bag only to see the rocks sparkling like what appears to be diamonds, he wanted to return to collect some more but it was too late for him. His lack of obedience caused him not to have gathered more sparkling rocks while Abraham's obedience caused him to have become the father of many nations. The scripture instructs us that Obedience is better than sacrifice.

If we have sincerely committed our lives to God, then we are going to obey Him; we are going to trust Him and leave all the consequences to Him. Being obedient does not mean that we will never face difficult situations as we would have recognized further in this same chapter.

Abraham obeyed and trusted God. God promised to bless Abram and make him famous, but God had one condition. Abram had to do what God wanted him to do.

This meant leaving his home and friends and travelling to a new land where God promised to build a great nation from Abram's family. Abram obeyed, walking away from his home for God's promise of even greater blessings in the future. Maybe God is trying to lead us to a place of greater service and usefulness for him. Don't let the comfort and security of your present position make you miss God's plan for you. Let go and let God

Letting Go and letting God calls us to clothe ourselves with the garment of Fear;

Sis Judy what are you saying to me this morning, the scripture tells us that God has not given us a spirit of fear (2 Timothy 1:7) but you are telling me to clothe myself with the garment of fear. My answer to you is yes but the scripture also says to fear God (Deuteronomy 6:24 "And the Lord commanded us to do all these statutes, to fear the Lord our God, for our good always, that he might preserve us alive, as it is at this day.").

Abraham could have denied letting go of all his wealth but because of his fear of God he was obedient to the call. He knew the capabilities of God and he did not want to suffer the wrath of God's anger and besides who could have turned down such a good offer to become the father of many nations and to be blessed beyond measure. God called me to this ministry, and he equipped me for what lies ahead but I became fearful. Of all my suitcases the garment of fear, though being the smallest, became the heaviest.

Reality check! I have decided to take a courageous journey of faith, a faith that calls me to let go of myself, allowing God to have total control of my life. I took a leap of faith with all the boldness and courage I had and let go and let God. I realized that even though I said I let go and let God I was still trying to control situations at home in Antigua and my fear grew even more. Its like one evening my husband said to me you can't control everything, and you have no control of the outcome, focus on your studies because God has already handled everything before you left.

Letting go means trusting God in the mist of the fears. The outcome is in God's hands. God knows every situation and what is on every person's heart. The sooner we let go and let God handle a challenge or problem, the sooner we will feel lighter and become fearless. Holding onto past hurts, past mistakes, being anxious and having fearful thoughts, etc. clutters our mind and spirit and cause us to fear the wrong things.

Letting go and letting God calls us to clothe ourselves in the garments of courage; the garments of faith; the garments of obedience and the garments of fear. What is preventing us from clothing ourselves in the right attire? Is it the voices that tell us, we were not called by God, some of us came, some of us went, some of us were sent? Is it the continuous voices that screams at us and question our Sunday school faith? Is it the voices that challenge our religious beliefs? Is it the voices that questions who God is to us? Is it the negative voices in our head? Whatever it is, I encourage us to allow God to order our steps in His ways. Let him teach us how to talk in His way. Let him teach us how to walk in His way as we seek to take the courageous journey of faith in letting go and letting God. We may think that we are on the right way to our destination, but we may not be. I ask the question Why not let Go and Let God?

Something to Ponder

The Dead Church

A new pastor in a small Midwestern town spent the first four days making personal visits to each of the members, inviting them to come to his first service.

The following Sunday, the church was all but empty. Accordingly, the pastor placed a notice in the local newspapers, stating that because the church was dead, it is everyone's duty to give it a decent Christian burial. The funeral would be held the following Sunday afternoon, the notice stated.

Morbidly curious, a large crowd turned out for the "funeral." In front of the pulpit, they saw a closed coffin, smothered with flowers. After the pastor delivered the eulogy, he opened the coffin and invited his congregation to come forward and pay their final respects to their dead church.

Filled with curiosity as to what would represent the corpse of a "dead church", all the people lined up to look into the coffin. Each "mourner" peeped into the coffin then quickly turned away with a guilty, sheepish look.

In the coffin, tilted at the correct angle, was a large mirror!
